

ELECTRONICS & UNIVERSAL WASTE

ELECTRONIC WASTE: Acceptable
Work / Office Related 	Miscellaneous Electrical 	Phones 	Computers / TV's 	Music / Film (Mixed Media) 	Home
Fax machines Pagers Paper Shredders Copiers Calculators Electric Typewriters Scanners	GPS units Automotive Electronics Transformers Surge protectors Receivers Electronic scrap (parts) Network cabling Coaxial wire	Cordless phones Cell phones Chargers Telephone sets Walkie Talkies	Keyboards External hard drives Laptops PC's Printers Hubs Cathode ray tube monitors Routers Televisions Flat screen monitors (LCD & Plasma) Mainframes Mice Servers	Boom boxes iPods & other MP3 players CD & DVD players Radios Record players Speakers Tape players (audio & video) Turn tables Digital cameras	Electric toys Cables & wiring Microwaves Timers Video game systems Kitchen appliances (small digital) Digital thermostats Answering machines Refrigerators (Freon removed)
UNIVERSAL WASTE: Acceptable
Batteries - wet cell Carbon monoxide monitors Compact fluorescent (CFL) lightbulbs Dehumidifiers Fluorescent lamps, tubes, and ballasts Incandescent lightbulbs Smoke detectors Thermometers and Thermostats			 Unacceptable <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Any liquids Air conditioners Freezers

Every customer's office recycling programs and needs are unique, IRS will rely on the vendors it works with in facilitating these needs to determine whether they are able to handle your recycling materials.